Theatre Cooking School Aid to Home Makers of County

Going to school in a theatre! It sounds a bit strange, doesn't it? But that is what women of the community will be doing when the Cameron Herald Motion Picture Cooking School comes to town on October 26, 27 and 28.

There will be real lessons, too, lessons in measuring, mixing and blending the ingredient for many recipes; in the preparation of such triumphs as a lattice-top fruit pie; in making delicious frozen desserts and salads; in laundering fine fabrics; and in planning healthful meals for growing children.

The camera has assembled all the expert information of trained home economists—not as a routine lecture, not as a formal "highbrow" demonstration, but as a real romance of home-making, full of suspense and charm, and informal chats from one-good-cook-to-another.

There will be remarkable close-ups of each process in a series of model, conveniently-equipped kitchens—real, workable kitchens, (not the synthetic, false-front variety,) where trained home-makers will plan and complete the preparation of several meals so the entire audience can see the process step by step.

The finished dishes, which will be shown in full color, will look as

Attends Board Meeting

REV. J. COY WILLIAMS
Member of the Board of the Methodist Orphan Home in Waco.

METHODIST BOARD MEET IN WACO

The General Board of the Methodist Orphan's Home met in Waco on Sept. 27th and 28th, for its annual meeting and conference. The business of the board during these two days was to inspect the property and tending to the general business of the home.

The board is composed of twelve members and all but one was present for the meeting. Rev. J. Coy Williams, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Cameron, reported that the home had enjoyed a prosperous and successful year, with the indebtedness being substantially decreased and improvement made on the property valued at more than $14,000.

The home inhabits approximately four hundred children at all times. Representatives on the general board from the Texas Conference are Dr. J. W. Torbett, chairman, and Rev. J. Coy Williams, vice-chairman. The general board meets once each year. The executive board composed of members of the general board meets in conference once each month. The executive board is composed of Dr. Torbett, chairman; Col. Epp G. Knight of Dallas, J. E. McCullough of Waco, Lloyd Johnson of San Marcos, and Rev. J. Coy Williams of Cameron.

Bank Here Gets Warrant Protest

Protests over charges made by Citizens National Bank on teachers' salary checks led the Milam County Board of Education to pass a resolution here Monday asking the bank to discontinue these charges.

The bank has the matter under advisement it was said but no announcement has been made. The sum of fifty cents is deducted from each voucher cashed by school teachers. Cameron banks charge exchange on all out of city checks, a minimum of twenty-five cents on any state warrant and the Citizens Bank in making the fifty cent charge for handling teachers' salary checks, declared it was necessary to make this deduction in order to break even on the transaction.

The Board of Education says in the resolution that the money to pay these salaries has been arranged for at the rate of eight per cent per annum for the time the money is used and therefore no additional charges or deductions should be made.

The resolution was released Wednesday on order of E. B. Phillips of Rockdale, chairman of the Board. "Be it resolved by the County Board of School Trustees of Milam (Turn to page 4)

Rotarians Hear Mrs Kemp Talk On Early History

Early Milam County history was discussed in a paper read by Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp before the Rotary Club at noon Wednesday. Mrs. Kemp, historian, was generously applauded for this interesting discussion of history of Cameron and Milam County.

The paper, of considerable length, is to be reproduced in the Cameron Herald and from this manuscript, a small booklet will be produced and will be offered for sale. Collectors will be interested to know that this is to be done with the permission of Mrs. Kemp. The paper revealed many interesting facts concerning the early history of this county. It is shown that the name of Cameron is taken from the Bible and that the city was named for Captain Ewing Cameron, who was born in the highlands of Scotland and died before a firing squad in Mexico, a hero of the fight for Texas independence.

Judge Jeff T. Kemp was a special guest of the club Wednesday and both were praised for their efforts to preserve accounts of the early history of Cameron and Milam County.

M. G. Cox, member of the program committee, introduced the guests.

Dr. Clifford G. Swift, president of the club, announced an inner-city meeting to be held here on the night of October 26, at which time Louis R. Ferguson, former president of Dallas Rotary Club and a former district governor of Rotary International, will be the principal speaker. Rotarians from surrounding clubs will be asked to attend the meeting with their wives, sweethearts and guests.

John Copley, local Rotarian, was made a member of the program committee to serve for this special occasion.

Herald to Publish 1938 County Budget

Next week the Herald will begin publication of a series of stories covering the 1939 budget for Milam County.

Due to the great length of this document it will be necessary to run the stories over a period of several weeks. This will be of great interest to the people and gives an intimate picture of the operation of the county government, the total income of which for the general fund does not exceed $40,000. It will be the purpose of the Herald to give interesting high-lights in this budget and at the same time bring to the people the story of the financial set-up of their county.

Bank Protest on Voucher Tax Filed

The Citizens National Bank on Thursday morning drafted a reply to the Milam County Board of Education and directed same to the Commissioners' Court following release of a resolution passed by the board growing out of protests over a small charge made for handling teachers' pay vouchers.

The bank outlines the history of the agreement as depository for school funds and offers to meet with the board and discuss the matter of handling these checks. W. O. Newton, vice president of the bank, released for publication the following statement:

To the Honorable Commissioners' Court:

We are in receipt of a copy of a very unfair and unjust resolution passed at the last meeting of the County Board of School Trustees of Milam County, Texas. It is unfair because it shows an entire lack of understanding and information in the details of our school affairs and unjust that we and your court were not invited to a hearing to discuss this subject and justify an arrangement worked out several years ago between this bank, your court, and the late

John Barrymore Gets Comedy Role In New Film

The new American fashion in medicine-show electioneering methods comes in for some up-roarious ribbing in the 20th Century-Fox football comedy, "Hold That Co-ed," which opens Sunday at the Cameron Theatre, with John Barrymore as a budget-bouncing, co-ed-kissing governor who parks his handwagon on the campus and proceeds to make things hum.

Half satire, half farce, and all fun, the picture proceeds merrily on the theory that if circus tactics can win votes (as they seem to be doing nowadays,) then a winning college football team could accomplish miracles at the polls for any political candidate clever enough to turn it to his own personal glory. It's a highly amusing idea, and from all advance reports it would seem that 20th Century-Fox has taken full advantage of its entertainment possibilities.

"We've cast John Barrymore as the demagogic governor," says Associate Producer David Hempstead, "and it proved to be his best role since 'Hamlet.' He's even better as a comedian than he was as a tragedian—and you know he's supposed to have been our greatest unhappy Dane. "Then, for romance, we've teamed George Murphy and Marjorie Weaver, as bright a personality pair as I've ever seen."

"Joan Davis plays the world's only female fullback and she too has her romance, with none other than popeyed Jack Haley!"

"For those who take their football seriously there are many exciting gridiron sequences, sensationally photographed. But I'm sure the serious grid fans will join with everyone else in enjoying the hilarious manner in which Joan wins 'The Big Game!'"

Five new swing hits highlight the film. These are "All American Swing," "Hold that Co-ed" and "Here Am I Doing It" by Mack Gordon and Harry Revel; "Heads High" by Lew Pollack and Lew Brown; and "Limpy Dimp" by Sidney Clare, Jule Styne and Nick Castle.

Darryl F. Zanuck, 20th Century-Fox production chief, selected Geo. Marshall to direct. The screen play is by Karl Tunberg, Don Ettlinger and Jack Yellen.

"Hold That Co-ed" is one of the Movie Quiz $250,000 contest pictures.

500 MAY GO TO GAME

Coach Wood's 1938 Yoemen with two wins to their credit, the latest being a six to nothing defeat of Caldwell on last Friday night with the ball on the one-yard line when the game ended threatening a second touchdown, were reported in readiness for the ancient rivalry in Caldwell on Friday night.

Cameron fans will charter a special train for the big game. This is not a conference game but an annual game between these two teams. Cameron will play her first conference game on Friday night, October 14, when the Yoemen go to Hearne for what is considered to be the first early season crucial test of the 1937 letter men who have been responding slowly to Coach Wood's ambitions for another district tilt.

W. Dubois, local agent for the Santa Fe Railway, was busy this week attending to details for the special train to be run to Caldwell on Friday night for the annual football bout between Caldwell and Cameron.

The Athletic Council was actively supervising the sale of tickets for the game. Mr. Dubois said he expected more than five hundred tickets to be sold for the train and that ample seating capacity would be arranged for all who make the trip.

The round-trip fare will be sixty-five cents and the train will leave Cameron at 6:20 p. m. and arrive in Caldwell at 7:10 p. m. On the return trip the train will leave Caldwell at 10:15 p. m. and arrive back in Cameron at 11:05.

"The Cameron Band will have cold drink concessions aboard the train," said Mr. Dubois.

Each year the people of Cameron have the privilege of enjoying the hospitality of the Santa Fe Railroad on these excursion trains.

Paving Plans for City Believed Doomed

Cameron will not benefit from a street paving project because the city is unable to finance its part due to the present low values on property and the tax rate having reached the Constitutional limit.

Lack of public interest and lack of enthusiasm among the members of the Council contributes largely to the hesitation in making any bid for Federal funds for the benefit of the city. The city has pending a deal to purchase the water system and it is believed that no other program will be undertaken until that question is settled.

Chairman Mose G. Cox of the program committee for the Cameron Rotary Club announced today that Charles E. Buaughman, former grand counselor of the Knights of Pythias in Texas, will be the guest speaker at the Rotary luncheon on Wednesday, October 12.

Coach Defines Best Type of Player for Theatre Award

Coach L. C. Wood, appreciating the liberality and interest of the Cameron Theatre in making the scholarship award announced last week, gave a summary this morning of qualities to guide theatre patrons in casting their ballots for the most valuable player.

Coach Wood feels that the aware announced by Stanley H. Swift last week will be an encouraging factor among football players who are to participate in this award. The qualities most desired and on which the people will make their decision are summed up as follows in the statement issued by Mr. Wood:

"The boy who is the best football player is of greatest value to his team. However this brings up the question of what does it take to make a good football player?"

"A good football player can tackle, block and be on his toes from the first of the game to the last. He can adjust himself to the situation and meet new situations with ease. Of course, a good foot ball player must be in good condition to be able to block and tackle and stand the gruff. Just being a good football player, however, does not cover the question of his valuation.

"The good football player that does not co-operate with his team mates is of no value to the team. To be of value, he must co-operate with his teachers, coach and team mates. He must be a gentleman and a leader on the practice field, in the game, on the streets, and in the classroom. He must be willing to give all for his team with but one idea and that for the success of his team and not himself. On some teams a mere substitute that seldom enters the game might be the most valuable man.

"The voter for the most valuable Yoemen should watch each boy on the field, on the street, at home, or any other place available, and see if he is a boy that meets the requirements of a gentleman.

"To me, a gentleman is more valuable to my team than just a good football player, but where you have a boy that is clean living, a gentleman, and a good football player, you have a boy that is valuable. It is not the boy who makes the long run, makes the long punt, or catches the long pass, that is of most value, but the individual that can co-operate and give his best throughout the game.

"For example on my 1936 team, the regional championship team, there was a guard, and a back field man who were of great value to the team and its success. The reason for this was their splendid co-operation, their self-sacrifice, and their having the success of the team at heart, which in the end meant the regional championship for Yoe High."

DALLAS Oct. 8 to 23

She is survived by five sons and three daughters. Her death came as a severe shock to her relatives and friends. Rev. O. C. Acree conducted the funeral services at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon at Liberty. She was laid to rest beside her husband who died eighteen years ago. The pall bearers were her grand sons. Grand mother Reese was loved by everyone with whom she came in contact. Her voice is no longer heard here on earth, but her foot prints are in heaven. In her home is a vacant chair, but she is now at rest in heaven. She has gone from this world of sorrow into a world where there is no pain. Grand mother Reese was a loyal Christian and a loving mother. Her passing will be mourned by everyone. She paid the debt we will all pay some day.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?" is the subject of the Lesson Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 9th.

The Golden Text is: "I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the Lord" (Jeremiah 30:17.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth" (Revelation 19:6.)

The Lesson sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To break this earthly spell, mortals must get the true idea and divine Principle of all that really exists and governs the universe harmoniously" (page 39.)

Bruce Jennings from Davilla, Milton Askew of Baileyville and Ed McAtee from Burlington were business visitors in Cameron Tuesday.

Miss Patsy McGregor, primary teacher in the Yarrellton public school, spent the week end with Miss Virginia Bargaineer of Marlin.

A THRILLING TREAT FOR EVERY WOMAN

At The Cameron Theatre

October 26, 27 & 28

"Star in My Kitchen" was produced in one of the major motion picture studios in Hollywood and has a large cast of well-known actors and actresses. It combines in a feature-length picture the romance and glamour of Hollywood with the everyday problems of home-making. You will laugh at and with Auntie Bella, the large, jolly, colored maid, and be thrilled by the love scenes between Mike (the movie star) and Dedee, the lovely heroine. And, most important of all, you will see in complete detail demonstrations of many recipes developed by several of America's leading home economists.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aniel Pfardrescher of Waco and a former student of Yoe High School.

On Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 28, the Cameron Symphony Club assembled for a business meeting at the home of Mrs. R. P. Jeter. Mrs. Pope Sapp presided over the meeting. Tentative plans for the ensuing year were made. At the close of the meeting, a delicious salad plate, with a refreshing drink was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Niley Smith.

Ernest James and Miss Bertha Tomasek of Pettibone, were united in marriage at the home of her father, Ignac Tomasek, Tuesday afternoon, October 4th at four o'clock, Judge Jeff T. Kemp reading the ceremony. The bride was beautifully dressed in white bridal satin with flowing veil and carried a small Bible decorated in dainty flowers. At six o'clock an old time dinner was served at the home of the bride's father. Her sister and neighboring girl friends co-hostesses. Mr. and Mrs. James will make their home in the Ad Hall community.

Alpha Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met at the home of Miss Dorothy Kidd on Monday night, September 26. After the business meeting was adjourned, the program committee presented Miss Margaret Bloebaum, chairman of the English department of Yoe High School. The topic for discussion was "Platform Presence," and Miss Bloebaum gave an instructive and entertaining lecture on this theme. After the interesting discourse, the group put into practice many of Miss Bloebaum's suggestions, with the whole participating. Later, the hostess served a delicious iced drink.

The following local members of the Woodmen Circle attended a meeting of the circle in Austin Monday night Mrs. Gladys M. Watson, guardian of the Cameron circle; Mesdames Grady Allen, Fannie Jackson, Johnnie Lee Richards, Mazie Price, Katherine Reinke, Alice Bennett Kunz, district field worker, Nettie Lee Raney, Ella McLerran Ollie Smith, Nettie Lord and son Monroe and Mrs. C. Bunce.

Mrs. Hubert Hefley has returned from Bloomington, Ill., where she attended the funeral of Mrs. Adella McIntosh Fox, who died there Saturday evening Sept. 24th at a hospital where she had on operation for appendicitis nearly two weeks before.

Mrs. Fox was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George McIntosh, and is quite well known in Cameron, having visited Mrs. Hefley with her parents when a young girl, and will be remembered by many friends whom she made at her different visits here. On Nov. 15, 1913, she was married to Dr. Ralph Fox, who preceded her in death December 31, 1932, leaving her with her sons, Ralph M. Fox, who attended Medical School at Harvard and Walter S. Fox a student now at Yale. Both of Mrs. Fox's sons have visited in the home of Mrs. Hefley and made many friends among the younger society set in Cameron.

Resolution

County that the Commissioners Court of Milam County be requested to review the matter of the County Depository with a view to having the vouchers of our public school teachers paid in full. It has come to our attention that after this Board has borrowed the necessary funds and the teachers' vouchers are presented for payment, the Depository bank discounts each teacher's voucher fifty (50c) cents. We protest against this charge as unjust and unlawful and we request the Commissioners Court to rescind the Depository contract if such practice is not corrected, or if it is not possible or legal to rescind the contract at this time, then we request the Court to refuse renewal with the present Depository at the expiration of the present contract.

"We direct that copies of this resolution be given to the County Commissioner Court, the Milam County Teachers Association, the Press and the Citizens National Bank of Cameron, the present Depository of Milam County.

"Dated this the 3rd day of Oc-

Hon. W. A. Morrison, then Chairman of the Board.

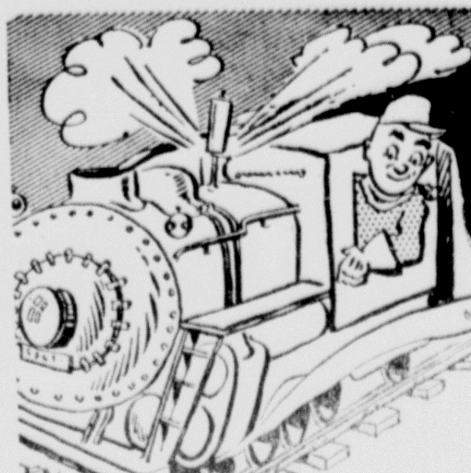

Our County Board is composed of outstanding, honorable, sensible, and reasonable men, and if, when the facts were presented, the present arrangements was not satisfactory, some substitute might have been agreed upon.

You will recall that the Depository-ship of the Milam County School funds was not sought by our bank. In fact, your court had no application from any bank in the county to serve. At your invitation, we agreed on a plan of handling, and we are proud of the manner in which the teachers and the schools have been accommodated, and your school depository laws tracked to the very letter.

Should the fact that our bank as depository of your school funds be any embarrassment whatever to your court, please know that it will be entirely agreeable for you to designate someone else. We pledge you our very best efforts and assistance to any designated institution who may succeed us; or, if entirely agreeable, we will be glad to enter conference with your court, and the Board of Education and see if some agreeable terms can be reached.

Yours truly,
The Citizens National Bank,

Sharp Community Fair Big Success

One of the most advanced steps in Sharp Community progress was the rodeo and fair held there recently when citizens of Sharp and surrounding communities united in an effort to present a means whereby diversified farming and better living conditions could be encouraged for the benefit of their people.

Large crowds from a varied territory visited and took part in the fair, some of the visitors having come from out of the state. A number of the riders and performers came from Oklahoma City. Other performers were there from Cameron, Abilene and Killeen. The stock used for riding, roping, tying, etc., and described as "plenty wild," was shipped from Mexico.

One of the most exciting moments of the fair was on Tuesday night when seven wild steers refused to be corralled by fourteen men.

Finally each steer had to be roped individually and dragged to his place. During interludes a horse owned by L. N. Sikes was horned by one of the steers disabling it for the activities of the following day.

A few of the high-lights of the rodeo and the winners of the different events are given in the following paragraphs:

There were four different events in the calf tie down and the winner was T. J. Smitson, time 14.7 seconds, the quickest time of any contestant who took part in the event. Mr. Smitson also won another first award on Wednesday afternoon with a time of 15.7 seconds. Only one event in the calf turn loose was held with Curtis Barron winning with a time of 8.7 seconds. Only two contestants took part in the bulldogging event, Frank Hoslek of Buckholts and Dude Caldwell of Cameron. Hoslek quit his horse at full speed and bulldogged his cow in 24.4 seconds short.

A wild cow milking contest was won by T. J. Smitson and Frank Hoslek in a record time of 13.4 seconds.

The most hair-raising event of the rodeo, according to one of the spectators, was when Army Roberts of Oklahoma City rode the wild Brahma bull backward.

The display section of the fair made a good showing with a large number of exhibits. In the grain exhibits, L. M. McDonald carried off all the honors having won first place with his display of corn, higar and algarria.

The fruit entry award was won by Otis Charles.

Among those to win award in the poultry show were Fuchs Bros. exhibit of White Leghorns and Rhode Island Reds; A. W. Lucas, Cornish Game; R. Jungmann, Buff Leghorns and T. R. Lorenzo, Barred Rock and White Rocks.

The ladies exhibited a large variety of different articles including preserves, cakes, pices and a large selection of different types of handwork, all of which were unique and very attractive.

A piece of household linen, fifty years old and hand woven was exhibited by Mrs. E. A. Hosch. Another interesting exhibit was a chair by Mrs. L. M. Massey which won the title of being the oldest piece of furniture. One of the most beautiful of all the exhibits was a table made of twenty different kinds of wood fitted together in small squares making a checkerboard design constructed by Lawrence Hosch, a Sharp High School student.

The Sharp Fair Association reports the rodeo and fair was a success for its first presentation. They hope to make the fair an annual event.

Mrs. Olene Hanson has been visiting in the home of her mother, Mrs. A. W. Bickett. Mrs. Hanson was joined by her husband last week and they have moved to Columbus, where Mr. Hanson has a road under construction.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Plentl and daughter, Bennie, visited Mrs. Plentl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hightower of Rogers on Monday night.

There will be a school carnival at South Elm Thursday night, Oct. 6, for the benefit of the school. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

An ADDED SERVICE

As an added service to its friends, customers and employees throughout Texas, the Humble Company has again arranged to bring you radio accounts of Southwest Conference football games. Each Saturday afternoon, the Conference games and the more important non-conference contests—as many as four on one afternoon—will be broadcast over an extensive network of Texas stations, so that you will be able to follow the fortunes of your favorite team throughout the season.

Humble urges you, however, not to be content to sit by the fire and listen to the radio; we suggest that you plan to see, with your own two eyes, as many of the games as you can.

On your way to and from the games you see, you are cordially invited to stop for service where you see the Humble sign. Restrooms at Humble Service Stations are noted for their spotless cleanliness; station salesmen are prompt, helpful, friendly—sincerely interested in making your trip more pleasant.

Follow the Humble route to football games this fall!

W. Lee O'Daniel

His Life Story

Reproduced from
The Dallas News

A radio program from Kingman during the campaign told how my old neighbors regarded me there. Among the speakers was Police Chief W. F. Fisher.

"When Mr. O'Daniel lived here back in 1913, 1914 and 1915—I just don't remember how long it was, I had occasion to know him well," said Chief Fisher. "We became good friends. I was then a Deputy Sheriff and much younger than I am now. O. D. was a happy youngster, working hard and trying to make a place for himself. He started at the bottom of the ladder of life. I know him when he was getting not much more than $10 a week, working in a mill. He always saved something of whatever he earned. By hard work and thrift he advanced himself to become a part owner of one of our early day milling enterprises. He later sold his interests and went to Kansas City to work for a large mill and then entered business for himself at New Orleans.

"Since that time I have been out of touch with his activities, but word has come to me from time to time that he has made for himself a place in Fort Worth and Texas. There never was a better young man than Wilbert. I know he hasn't changed. He is fundamentally sound. He is intelligent and just to his fellow man. Envious people allow their tongues to wag out of step and out of tune, and this is why these leading and substantial people of Kingman are here tonight, talking to you people of Texas. There have been false rumors and cowardly innuendo spread against our friend. We denounce this character of campaigning. It is the sort of campaigning Wilbert Lee O'Daniel would never lend himself to."

Barber Speaks of O'Daniel

Continuing, the master of ceremonies in Kingman said:

"Well, Texans, we are skipping along. I have here one of the best city boosters any town ever had. He is a member of the chamber of Commerce and always a worker. Right now he is serving with me on our Punkin Ball Tournament. To you people outside of Kansas, punkin ball is soft ball. We stage a big softball tournament here every year. It brings thousands upon thousands of people to our town, and right now Joe is getting ready to shoot the works. Joe, come here. Ladies and gentlemen, this is Joe Morris, proprietor of one of our splendid barbershops and himself a leading and patriotic citizen."

"I am glad to have this opportunity to say a good word for an old friend and one of the best town builders Kingman ever had," said Joe Morris. "I know Wilbert Lee O'Daniel exceedingly well. He was a fine, clean young fellow and more than ready to do his part. I liked him when he lived here and I still like and admire him. He was married to a lovely young lady here and his first son was born right here in Kingman. Wilbert was always generous and kind to all people. He was always a booster and never one to tear down."

"In our early days here in Kingman we had our ups, and downs. Wilbert took them in stride and never complained. His big Irish-American heart beat in tune with those of the less fortunate. He had come up through hard knocks and poverty. Hard work had always been his, and he ever remained the friend of the toiler. I liked O'Daniel when he was one of our best and foremost citizens. I like him today because he has made a success of his life and helped hundreds of others along life's path way."

Former Telephone Man Speaks

"Your remarks were splendid, Joe, and I want to thank you," said Glenn Ferguson, "Now, neighbors, in Texas, we have another of the good old boys here who would have felt slighted had I not assured him I would give him an opportunity to do a little talking for our old buddy. When Wilbert lived here in Kingman, Charley Peterson was manager of the telephone exchange. O'Daniel was in the wheat and grain business, and he used almost constantly the service Charley had to offer. They tell me telephone folks get to know a lot about their neighbors, and if there is any hot gossip floating around, it is bound to find its way over the wires. Charley long ago retired from the telephone business, and we appointed him our city clerk. He is a permanent fixture with us and a man beloved for his generous and kindly nature, Charley, you now have your opportunity."

"To all things there must be an ending, said my old friend Charley Peterson. "Glenn Ferguson has placed me down here on the end—maybe because the time is growing short, and if he can't shut me off, this gentleman running this contraption can. Seriously, Neighbor Texans, I would feel derelict in my duty to the name of a good man if I did not lend my voice in his behalf. I knew Wilbert Lee O'Daniel over a period of several years and knew him well. I had a great deal of business dealings with him and can truthfully say he was always honest and more than fair. He was kind and always cheerful. He was sympathetic and just. He was as bright as a new dollar and could think just a bit faster than many of us. He worked hard and long, and, when he played he played with all the zest of a joyous young American lad."

Recommended as Clean Man

"I am glad to recommend him as a clean, honest gentleman in every respect. The people of Texas will make no mistake by picking him as the next Governor of the great Lone Star Commonwealth. Every fair-minded man and woman of Kingman who knew him wishes Wilbert Lee O'Daniel success, and we now extend him an invitation to come up and eat fried chicken with us. And this means Mrs. O'Daniel, Pat, Mike and Molly, too. Thank you, Neighbor Texans."

And then Glenn Ferguson closed the program by saying:

"Kingman citizens have had their say. I cannot add more, but I must say that Wilbert Lee O'Daniel is everything my fellow townsmen have said. We commend him to you as a fine upstanding American citizen. And now, Texans, we say good-night. Thank you for listening to us. You have had the true expression of kindly hearts."

To Kansas City

I have given space to the generous sentiments of my old friends and neighbors in Kingman, because I think it is interesting twenty years afterward to see how they regarded the future Democratic nominee for the Governorship of Texas.

As I have said, the sale of the Independent Milling Company necessitated my removal early in 1920 to Kansas City, where I worked for a short time, clearing the orders of our old company and tending to other details in the wind-up of the Kingman business.

My wife and I decided it was cheaper to sell off most of our household goods rather than move them to Kansas City. So I dropped by the Courier-Ledger office and paid for a $3 ad which the Palmers ran for me. The only things we held back were the Christmas gift phonograph, an old grandfather clock I had bought for our second Christmas and a number of other small household and personal effects.

A. B. Palmer recalled recently that he bought our prized ice box from us. He had inserted a small ad for such a contrivance, and I saw it in time to offer mine first. The Palmers always had good sense of humor, and A. E. Palmer's written comment in 1938 is typical: "I bought W. Lee O'Daniel ice box. I'm proud to say the box that cooled the victuals of the future Governor of Texas also cooled mine, and kept my homemade beverages from exploding for many years thereafter."

Gets Kansas City Apartment

I went ahead of the family in Jan. 1920, to find a house or apartment in Kansas City. Mrs. O'Daniel and little Pat came on shortly after I had found the first of two apartments or duplexes we rented there.

Our second child was born in Kansas City on March 29, 1920. It was a boy, and there was no other name for him but the one we had already agreed on—Mike. Pat and Mike had joined the family. All that was needed now to complete the circle was a little girl by the name of Molly.

We lived near a park in Kansas City, and we took the two babies there often. After about a year that park was the scene of a big boy show. My wife was awfully proud of her two sons. Pat had been a little off his food, though and looked a little puny, so we decided to enter Mike alone. We both knew he would surely win the blue ribbon.

There was a great crowd of proud mammas and papas at the baby show, and the judging went on for hours. I remember I hurried home from the office to be in on the moment of triumph when Mike would be judged the winner. It nearly broke his mother's heart when the scores were posted—and Mike had not won the blue ribbon! We were leaving the park, as dejected a young couple as you can imagine, when I suddenly thought of something.

"Why, we've got another baby to enter," I pleaded with the judges, "wait until you see Mike's little brother, Pat." Maybe there was some Irish in the judges' make-up; at least they agreed to wait until we could bring up our pinch-hitter from the nursery. And of all things, Pat walked off—or rather was rolled off in his baby carriage—with first honors in that baby show.

Enters Own Business
Kansas City was a pleasant place to live and it was a great milling center. Among my long-time friends in the milling industry was, and is, Robert E. Sterling, editor and manager of the Northwestern Miller, which is published in Kansas City.

My friend Sterling is sort of the patriarch of the milling business in Kansas City. He knows all the angles of the business and his advice has always been invaluable. He has long been a vice-president of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce in charge of agricultural activities. He has long rendered an invaluable service to his community and to the great farming area served by it.

I was with the Associated Mill and Elevator Company for only a short time, as I have explained. It was on my friend Sterling's advice, in part, that I left this concern. It later went on the financial rocks.

In the meantime, and before the Associated Mill and Elevator Company came to grief in the deflation of the early 1920's, I again went into business on my own. I believed the time had come to organize better export market facilities for many of the smaller flour mills of the country. So I formed the United States Flour Mills Company and chose New Orleans as the base for our new business. There I moved my family in 1921 and took in the Metairie Ridge part of town.

Export Business Shrinks

To handle the output of many mills, our plant at New Orleans consisted of a series of cylindrical tanks in a large bulk storage flour warehouse. It was designed with a system of valves, so that the flour could be fed into conveyors which carried it to a blender. The blending supervisor could work the valves as a player does on a pipe organ. This flour exporting association was designed to help small millers compete in foreign trade with their larger and more powerful competitors. Unfortunately just when we were getting into our stride, the bottom dropped out of the flour export business of the United States.

New Orleans is a great city with a fine class of folks living there. We enjoyed our stay of several years very much. Best of all, for us, it was the birthplace of our third child. I always knew the third baby would be a girl. And sure enough she was, and we called her Molly—just as I had always planned. She was a real Valentine, being born on St. Valentine's Day.

But we were not to stay in the Crescent City long. The export business on flour was shot to pieces and I began looking around for the next job. I got an offer to return to Kansas. But at the time I was offered a job with the Burrus Mill and Elevator Company in Texas. My wife and I held a consultation.

CARDUI

In this modern time something wonderfully worth while can be done for practically every woman who suffers from functional pains of menstruation. Certain cases can be relieved by taking Cardui. Others may need a physician's treatment.

Cardui has two widely demonstrated uses: (1) To ease the immediate pain and nervousness of the monthly period; and (2) to aid in building up the whole system by helping women to get more strength from their food.

Cooking School

though they could be picked right out of the picture and eaten on the spot. The class won't be all work, for there is the constant play of sparkling humor, the appeal of tender romance, the suspense of a coherent, intelligently directed story, which dramatizes everyday happenings—the human sort of things that really do happen.

Binding the attractive story together is the romance of home-making, a subject that holds the interest of every woman young and old. Even the Herald knows that all women—brides, business types and experienced house keepers—respond to the fascination of looking in on another woman when she is at work in the kitchen.

Particularly do they like it when they are allowed to sit quietly and watch her prepare some dish in which she specializes. They know that if they watch closely, while she measures and mixes and completes the entire cooking operation, this close-up personal study will be more helpful than hours of ready recipes or blind experimenting.

The motion picture camera was leisurely, completely unhurried and pains takingly accurate in recording "Star in My Kitchen." There is no trickery in the cooking, baking and preparation of appetizing ice-box wonders. Competent cooks who have drifted into bad habits will be able to check their own mistakes by studying the systematic routine revealed in those close-ups.

"They make cooking and house-work seem so easy," the audience will say after watching the experienced home-makers in "Star in My Kitchen" instruct the eager, young Dedee Abot. And cooking will become easy for every woman who attends the Motion Picture Cooking School, where the lessons will be simple yet remarkably effective.

It sounds like a real re-union for women of the community, even to the Herald, which is getting a steady stream of congratulations on booking this profitable cooking school.

In addition to the daily recipe

On Saturday evening, Oct. 1st, a group of 65 young folks met at the home of Mary Sue Cook for a party given for her. Many games were played and they were served lemonade, cake, peanuts, candy and cookies. The guest of honor was Annie Beth Cook who was home for the week end.

A group of young people enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Henderson on Friday night. They played games and were served with fruit punch.

The PTA of Ben Arnold is getting under way and expect to start work in earnest very soon.

The students hope to have a large 4H club this year. We are going to organize soon and start in our work.

Ben Arnold has not begun their basket ball games yet, but are hoping to get a good start in the near future. We are all looking forward to a star team this year. We are also expecting a nice pep squad from the other high school and grammar school students. They will be at hand when Ben Arnold plays their games at home. We need all of our friends co-operation.

Ad Hall Elects PTA Officers

At the PTA meeting held at Ad Hall school house on Friday afternoon, September 30, officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year. They will assume their duties in October. Those elected were Mrs. Frank Granender, secretary and treasurer, and Miss Vlasta Vaculin, reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Alex Bonds made a business trip to Waco on last Thursday.

Sheriff Kennedy Home for Visit

R. M. (Max) Kennedy, sheriff of Milam county, returned to his home here Sunday after a two month's stay in Sanatorium, Texas.

Mr. Kennedy left Cameron immediately after the primary election in July for a much needed rest advised by physicians after he was found to be suffering from a lung infection.

Mr. Kennedy says he is really glad to be back in Milam county among his old friends again. He has gained twenty pounds of weight and says he feels fine.

There are 865 patients in the Sanatorium and Mr. Kennedy says the method effecting a cure is complete rest and relaxation and that he had not left the Sanatorium building since July 29, until he came home Sunday. He received a five day leave of absence to visit home folks and says if his health keeps improving, he may not need to go back.

L. W. Bailey of Briary and M. E. Ashley of Liberty were both Cameron visitors Saturday.

Rev. L. E. Laurence, a former citizen of Cameron who now lives in Austin was a visitor in Cameron on Monday.

Mrs. Joe Callan of Austin, was in Cameron on Monday. Mrs. Callan has just returned from an exciting trip which took her to such points as Chicago, Detroit and Milwaukee and extended over a period of three weeks. Mrs. Callan, it will be remembered, formerly owned the Commercial Hotel here and has visited in this city many times. While here Monday Mrs. Callan visited at the Herald office and renewed her subscription for another year.

for Women only

CARDUI is a special medicine for the relief of some of the suffering which results from a woman's weakened condition. It has been found to make monthly periods less disagreeable, and, when its use has been kept up awhile, has helped many poorly nourished women to get more strength from their food. This medicine (pronounced "Card-u-i") has been used and recommended by women for many, many years. Find out whether it will help you by giving it a fair trial. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.

Ask Your Wife About Insurance

Ask her how she'd like to become dependent upon friends or relatives—or slave behind a counter—should anything unforeseen happen to you. Ask her how she'd like to tell her children that they would have to stop school and help her make a living—that work is the only thing they have to look forward to. Just ask her! She'll know the answer . . . and SO DO YOU!
